From the Jubilee sermon, It is the rising of the sun (an Easter Message)

From the Scriptures

One of the greatest stories ever told: Read the Scriptures and question the kids about what they already know about it.

Story recapitulation

If you don't have a screen to project, you can print images and let the kids look at them one after the other.

Card project, drawing of color a dual sun rising (son rising) (done for US letter card paper)

Just like the little pretty, little, yellow-haired, blue-eyed girl who stood at Brother Branham's door to give him an Easter card; the kids will either color (for the younger ones,) the already printed Easter card with the quotes and the drawing, or draw themselves (for the older kids) the card with the quotes only. (See below or attached)

After church, invite your Sunday School kids to give the card they've made to a brother or sister, to an elder, a grand-parent, etc.

Activity / draw the missing parts

For the kids that end there card project faster, you can print this activity to keep them busy while the other kids are finishing their card project. (See below or attached)

Prayer and requests

Verses:

MARK 16:1-20

1 ¶ And when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the [mother] of James, and Salome, had bought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint him.

2 And very early in the morning the first [day] of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun.

3 And they said among themselves, Who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre?

4 And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away: for it was very great.

5 And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment; and they were affrighted.

6 And he saith unto them, Be not affrighted: Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: he is risen; he is not here: behold the place where they laid him.

7 But go your way, tell his disciples and Peter that he goeth before you into Galilee: there shall ye see him, as he said unto you.

8 And they went out quickly, and fled from the sepulchre; for they trembled and were amazed: neither said they any thing to any [man]; for they were afraid.

9 ¶ Now when [Jesus] was risen early the first [day] of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had cast seven devils.

10 [And] she went and told them that had been with him, as they mourned and wept.

11 And they, when they had heard that he was alive, and had been seen of her, believed not.

12 After that he appeared in another form unto two of them, as they walked, and went into the country.

13 And they went and told [it] unto the residue: neither believed they them.

14 ¶ Afterward he appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen.

15 And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.

16 He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned.

17 And these signs shall follow them that believe; In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues;

18 They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.

19 ¶ So then after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God.

20 And they went forth, and preached every where, the Lord working with [them], and confirming the word with signs following. Amen.

22 And now in Mark the 16th chapter, the chapter of the resurrection, the 16th chapter, the 1st and 2nd verses. And when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, the mother... and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had brought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint him. And very early in the morning the first day of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun.

23 Now, my text this morning, I want to take for a text: It Is The Rising Of The Sun. And for a subject, I want to use, "the quickening Power."

24 Now, you know, you perhaps have been hearing the radio and the different ministers speak. And our noble Brother Neville this morning speaking his Easter subject, on the resurrection. And I thought maybe I would take it a—a little different path, not to be different, but just to add a little more, maybe in another angle, for you. The Scriptures, every angle you go with the Scriptures, It always declares Jesus Christ. You cannot get away from it, any way. It always declares Him.

25 Now, as the world today in a—a memorial service, or, at least, in United States and this side of the earth, this morning, in the churches and throughout, is celebrating a memorial of—of the greatest triumph that man ever had.

26 I think, as Saviour when He died, or as an infant when He was born, He could not have been here lest being coming into the earth. And when He died, certainly He atoned for our sin. But, yet, there's been many fine little babies born, and there's been many man who has suffered and died for a real cause, but there never was one that could raise hisself up again until this day.

27 Now, that it is the greatest week in history, the greatest celebration of all times, this Easter is where He proved what He had said. Man can say things, but yet it isn't exactly can be believed upon, thoroughly, until it's been proved to be the Truth. And as God, Who said, "Prove all things; hold fast to that which is good," He would not tell you to do something that He would not do Himself. So He proved Who this was that died for our sin.

28 And, now, not only is it a memorial day, of all these great Easter flowers, and Easter bonnets, and pink rabbits, and so forth, that we've got into, and holy celebration; which is all right, but this is not the real thing in that way.

29 As people today are trying to say, "We should wash feet once a year, on—on Thursday, and on Friday we should take the communion," and all different doctrines of... They argue about whether it should be this day or that day, or whether it should be a sabbath day or the first day of the week; or... All these things are just merely tradition. What good would any of it do you, whether you had Lent or not Lent, if there is no Life in you? It's only a memorial. Which, there's nothing against it, but they have certainly carried out their traditions, but left off the main thing.

30 Satan doesn't care how religious you are, or how right you are in your Doctrine. If you miss that Life, you won't come up, anyhow. No matter how religious, how good, how many churches you've belonged to or will belong to, it doesn't matter one thing unless you have been born again.

31 Therefore, if God raised up Jesus from the dead, did He raise Him up for a memorial? And is this resurrection morning only a—a one day in the year, or a certain day that we celebrate this? Or, are we benefactors of His resurrection? What does it mean to me? What does it mean to you? Now we believe, by faith, that He raised from the dead, but what has that got to do with me? That was two thousand years ago. Now to find this text!

32 As I was tired, my arm hurting me, from shots that the nurse gave me. For, leave overseas now, as you know, in a few days, and I must have these shots, son and I. And with cholera, yellow fever, and everything, I was pretty weary, making me sick. Which, Caesar requires to have these shots before you go into the other nation. And He said, "Give Caesar that which is Caesar's, but then give God that which is God's."

33 And as I was setting there, wondering what would I speak to this waiting audience this morning; which I am very thankful for, and man and women who would lay their life on the line for what you would say. "How should I do it? What should I take for a text?"

34 And then while I was setting there, almost asleep, my door rattled, out on the front side of the house. Nobody being there but myself, as far as I knew. I listened. I didn't get it just right. After a while, the den room door, where I turn into my study, it rattled, and someone kept shaking the door. And I—I went to the door and opened the door, and, to my surprise, a—a pretty, little, yellow-haired, blue-eyed girl stood there, looked like a little Easter flower; that's setting here looking at me now.

35 She handed me a card. And it was the... Course, I guess when I get home there'll be Easter cards, and so forth; but the only one, being leaving home, that I had received. And she said, "Brother Branham, this is from daddy and me." She wanted to be sure that "me" was in it. And her arthritic father, setting in a wheelchair, had sent this card. When I took it and thanked the little darling, as she turned and walked away from the door, I opened up the card.

36 And in the form of this card I drew my text. For, on the card was the Saint Mark 16:1 and 2, sunup, the sun was rising. Then I thought of that, and then the subject of "the quickening," of Jesus Christ to be raised up from the dead, I drew my subject.

37 Now, the sun, at the rising of the sun. Well, there was a time when the world was laying in utter darkness. It was without form, and was void. And it was all covered with water, and was laying there in the dark, dismal, gloomy atmosphere. And the Spirit of God moved upon that water, and said, "Let there be light." God had a reason to do that, for down beneath that water there was seeds that He had planted, and it had to have that sunlight to make it live.

38 And the first Light was ever given in the earth was God's spoken Word. The first Light that ever struck the earth was God's spoken Word. He said, "Let there be light," and there was light. That turned darkness into light, in order to bring forth a creation of joy and life upon the earth. Then, the Spirit of God, as It moved with love and compassion, at that great day, the first day of the dawn of creation upon the earth; the sun rose and swept across, its rays, and dried up the waters from the earth, and made an atmosphere above. And, for its first time, it was to bring joy and life to the earth, by a seed. That was a great hour.

39 But, oh, it wasn't nothing, that sunrise, like the sunrise on that Easter morning. This time, with the sun leaping into the skies, it brought forth a greater sunrise than ever; because it came greater news with this sunrise, than it did with the sunrise at the beginning. This sunrise brought a news, that, "He is risen! He is quickened from the dead, as He's promised. He's risen from the dead."

40 The first time the sun rose, in Genesis, it was bringing a message that there will be life upon the earth, mortal life.

41 But this time, when the sun rose, there was a—a dual sunrising; another, Son, rising. It was the... not only s-u-n rising, it was the S-o-n had risen to bring Eternal Life to all God's promised Seed that by foreknowledge He had seen laying upon the earth.
