

57-0420 The Entombment

It could have been changed, but how could He do it? He just couldn't do it, for it was His own children crying out for His Blood. Could you imagine a daddy, a father, with his own children (in darkness) crying out for their own father's blood? That's the reason He could do nothing else but die. If He didn't, it was doom for His children, it was doom for the creatures. But He had to die, to save His people.
